(1) Mr T. Govinda Row was appointed Private Secretary to the Dewan with effect from the 1st April 1909 & his pay was ~~fixed~~ 250 R + 50 (d.A). [vide notn. G 573 – dy 6-4-09 + G.o G 6325-6 dy 5-5-09].

(2) In a Notn. no. G 4491 dy 26-2-12 he was appointed an asstt. commr of the 5th class Schedule B, & in G.o. No. 3470 – G.7 388-11-1 dy 26-2-12 laying down that ~~in future~~ the appointment of Private Secr to the Dewan should be a tenure appointment, it is said that the case of the existing holders of the apptt will be governed by the Govt orders in force hitherto.

(3) The effect of these orders ~~are~~ is that Mr Govinda Row is a proba asstt commr, 5th class Schedule B, & that under para 11 of the C.S. Rules of 1907 he is entitled to promotion to the 4th class from the 1st April 1912. It is presumed that he has rendered approved service during the past three years. His promotion may

From the History of Services it is seen that he passed this Exam in May 1910. The order of 26.2.12 appointing him as Asst Comr 5th class is silent regarding the date from which he should be treated as such and as is usual in such cases, the order should Case take effect only from the date of issue. For these reasons it would appear that his claim to the first increment accrues only after three years from 26.2.12. In any case it cannot be earlier than three years from May 1910 when he fully qualified himself for appointment as Asstt. Comr. ~~under~~

Fin. Sec'y.) 11.4.12

(8) Please discuss more fully the application of para 11 of the rules of 1907 referred to in Fin. Sec'y's ~~note~~ note. 13/4/12

Note Continued:

(9) Under para XI of the rules of 1907, promotion to the 4th class is made after three years' service in the 5th class provided that. When an officer has been already drawing a pay of Rs 250, the time during which such pay was drawn shall count towards the three years. My note above is based on the assumption that the case comes under the ordinary three years' rule and not under the proviso, because although as Private Sec'y he was getting a pay of 250 Rs. from 1.4.09, it can only be considered as a Special appointment with a special pay for the time being of 250 Rs. But during all this time until he was appointed as Asstt Comr V class on 26·2·12 (and it must be noted that this order is not specifically stated to have retrospective effect) his substantive place is amidst the fourth class and substantive pay proper 150 Rs (Vide Civil List). Following the general rule in such cases, his substantive pay alone (Viz 150 Rs) was taken into consideration and his case treated as one not coming under proviso.

Why should it be necessary to give retrospective effect to the order to bring the case under the proviso ?
M 14/4

This is the important point. But was not his substantive pay Rs 250/- ? If not what was it — offg pay temporary pay or what ?
M 14/4

(1) Moreover at the time of appointing him private Secy, Govt did not appoint him Asstt Comr because he had not qualified himself fully by passing all the Exams he passed the Exn in Civil Pay II in May 1910. If by his subsequent appointment as assistant Comr, his case is considered as coming under the proviso, the effect will be to allow the period prior to May 1910 (when he had not passed all his Exams) to Count towards the increment, and thus practically nullify the consideration which led to the passing of the order of 5·5·09.

Is it mentioned anywhere that the proviso under Rule XI of 1907 will not apply to any period during which the officer might have drawn Rs 250/- but was not fully qualified by Exn ? I think not. M 14/4

(2) ~~It was however open to Govt to~~ ~~appoint him~~ As it is now ordered that his case should be regulated by the old rules, it was open to Govt to appoint him Asstt Comr ~~from the date~~ with retrospective effect — from the date he became Pr. Secy or rather the date on which he qualified himself fully — If this had been done there would have been no question as to the date from which the promotion to 4th class was admissible — (Secy)

(12) Please reply briefly to the three queries in the margin of your note of today. Are the 1907 Civil Service rules the latest? MR 15/4

(13) (1) What I mean is that if he is appointed Asstt. Comr with retrospective effect, no difficulty will arise regarding the regulation of his future promotion - If this is not done his case does not come under the proviso and he won't get the promotion as suggested - I did not mean that if he is appointed with retrospective effect his case will come under the proviso.

(2) - I cannot say exactly what the 250 Rs is - It is the special pay of a special appointment - Quite distinct from if he had his substantive pay proper -

(3) I cannot ~~find~~ quote any specific authority for this - It was based only on general considerations - The 1907 rules are the latest rules -

(14) Yes) MR 15/4/12

~~Any more points? Does that complete all the points in the case? Has Mr Govinda Rao passed? If not how does it affect the case?~~

MR 15/4

Mr. Govinda Rao was shown as an Amildar in the Civil list, but as he got 'no acting allce for his being Private Secretary, his emoluments should I believe be taken to be "pay".

Secretary was temporary & for a definite term the promotion referred to in Genl Secy's note of 4.4.12 is admissible. Even if it was understood that the apptt was to be a lenient apptt the question would be one of interpretation of the term 'pay' in subpara 2 of Rule XI. Reading the orders of 6.4.09 & 5.5.09 appointing Mr Govinda Rao as Private Secy & fixing his emoluments I think Rs 250/- should be taken as his pay during the period. The retention of his name in the list of Amildars as a seconded officer should not matter. The substantive pay of a seconded officer is the pay in his new apptt — the pay which he would have drawn in his old apptt is ordinarily immaterial for regulating his pay & allowances.
